Tomorrow,

when we have gone,

We'll glance back

upon the good times,

And many faces

will shine
in our memories.

We'll remember those people

who've done
so much for us,

And for four years have been so much a part of our lives.

Then we'll regret that we have neglected

to thank them,

And we'll realize

how much we've come to love them.

74 Homecoming Court Presides at Crowning

(Clockwise) Trembling with fear and bursting with joy Alane Davidheiser and Jim Stanczak, Tracie Seibt and Craig Bernhardt, Julie Raino and Blair Briscoe, Joyce Kelly and John Yeazel, Beth Terhune and Jerry DeSimone enter the gym, preceded by pages Gertrude Ivory and Andy Dickerson, for Homecoming Coronation.

Senior Court Reigns Over Homecoming Week

Homecoming— that special time when a school shows its spirit. Arlington's fifty-second Homecoming was among the best ever. The week before was filled with activities. There were marathon float-building sessions to promote the "Advertising a Victory" theme of this year. Everyone turned out in enthusiastic, if bizarre costumes on spirit and color day, and things were made perfect by the Cards' victory over Wheeling at the game. "White Buffalo" provided the music at the ball — everything from rock to ragtime. The dance was the crowning point of the never to be forgotten Homecoming week during 1974.

"Our Town" Brings Sweet Sentiment to Its AHS Audience

Grovers Corners, lying on the pliocene granite of the Appalachain range, was the site of the '74 spring play "Our Town" the drama of life in America in 1900. "Our Town" concerns George Gibbs and Emily Webb, two neighbors who grow up together and marry. Only after her death does Emily realize the value of living life to the fullest, which is the play's message.

(Top Right) Mary Anne Belter, Diane Kaminski, and Rachel Brandenburg swap, trade, and relay the very latest disgustingly juicy gossip on the way home from "Our Town" choir practice.

(Center Right) Opening umbrellas indoors was certainly not bad luck for the cast of "Our Town". This successful drama was performed during March 29-30 and April 5-6 of last year.

Carousel Cast Was Bustin' Out All Over With Many Talents

Excitement over Rogers and Hammerstein's "Carousel" began in early March with casting and rehearsals under the direction of Miss Helen Stavros and her faithful assistant, Ann Thompson.

Sweet and poignant was the mood of the music, as the talented directors Mr. Schmoyer and Mr. P. made it happen May 17th and 18th.

Billy Bigelow	 Michael Thornton
Carrie Pipperidge	 Kim Alterini
Enoch Snow	 John Geertz
Nettie Fowler	 Joan Ramsey
Jigger Craigin	 Joe Klein
Mrs. Mullins	Cindy Solger
Louise	 Carol Simon

(Right) After being rejected by her fiancé, Kim Alterini looks for comfort from Joan Ramsey and Lynn Egan. A moment like this brought tears of sadness to many in the Grace Gym audience.

(Above) Carrie (Kim Alterini) and the girls in the spring musical "Carousel" tell the boys who have been clam digging all day that they have been working much harder all day than the boys.

(Above) Jigger (Joe Klein) and Billy Bigelow (Mike Thornton) brag about their adventures of sailing the high seas while other interested men look on and dream that it will be them someday.

(Left) All of the girls are gleeful about the announcement of Carrie's engagement to Mr. E. Snow who has Carrie's and his future planned.

Extra! Extra! A.H.S. Fall Play, Smash Hit

The chaos of the Chicago newspaper world of the 20's was exposed in "Front Page." The plot concerned the efforts of a reporter to escape his job. However, his ruthless editor, the escape of a killer and the discovery of a man's pardon delayed his plans; gave him new values.

Winter Play Teaches Audiences A Lesson

A different type of history lesson was given to A.H.S. audiences this January. "Indians" told the story of the "winning of the west" from the Indians' point of view. Based upon actual events, the play alternated between Buffalo Bill's (Scott Waara) rodeo and a committee of senators sent to discover Indian grievances. Neither the whites nor the Indians were willing to compromise and after a futile shouting match between senator Logan (Matt Dacy) and Sitting Bull (Chuck Constantino) the committee hearings ended in a shambles. "Indians" was disquieting as it offered no villains, heroes or answers to the question of morality today.

Talent Shows in The 1975 Variety Show

A.H.S. Prom Evening Was A Time For Us

A time for us . . . speak of time . . . an entire fifteen minutes of anticipation . . . If I comb my hair one more time I'll go bald . . . can't sit down or I'll wrinkle the back of this terribly uncomfortable outfit . . . If I pace back and forth again, I'll wear the bottom of my shoes, then I'll have to try to explain to my date why I think the dance is so cold . . . Who are all these people? . . . What are all the neighbors doing over here? . . . Move back, give me some air, I think I'm going to faint . . . Aunt Molly quit straightening my collar . . . Hey, I think we've got enough pictures, O.K.? Click, Click . . . Now no more . . . Click, Click . . . Are the flowers still in the refrigerator? . . . No. I'm not hungry . . . What happens if I get stood up?

Memories of Prom Linger on Forever

(Bottom Right) Charming their ladies fair are Peter Bowen and Todd Reese, the ladies are graceful Sharon Stefanik and Bonnie Stoltzner.

Cardinals Know That They Are the Best!

Experience and training proved very rewarding for Mr. Haines and the varsity in their second year together. Matt Shaunessy, John Yeazel, and Wayne Eisenhuth provided Arlington with examples of winning form in the first conference game at Rolling Meadows.

Card spirit again showed after the Homecoming Parade when a caravan of one hundred cars drove to Wheeling to provide support for the team. Both John Yeazel and Craig Bernhardt scored for the shut-out victory score of 14-0.

This season the Varsity had five wins and three losses, including the destruction of Hersey's record of fourteen conference wins and no losses by winning a hard-fought 13-7 game.

(Right) Hey, coach, is it my turn to play in the game? The thought of not sitting there, of getting off that cold bench and playing on first string varsity, makes the practice worthwhile.

Arlington Gridders Tackle Their Way to Numerous Victories

(Top Right) After an outstanding completion, senior John Yeazel is tackled by an opponent. The cards finished another fine season this year, principally because of the devoted players.

Sluggers Ready for The Major Leagues

Arlington's sluggers pounded their way to another successful year in '74. The Varsity team ended the season evenly: 9 wins and 9 losses. The sophomore record was the same. The freshmen won 10 and lost 6. Outstanding players were Dar Townsend, awarded the V.F.W. M.V.P. title and also James Vogts.

Card Swimmers Sink All Their Opponents

The A.H.S. swim team plunged into rough water as they returned defending their Mid-Suburban conference championship. The tankers lost their first two meets against two powerful non-conference teams, Thornwood West and St. Viator. Seniors Joe Nitch, Dan Stubing, Andy Williams, Dixon O'Brien, Rob Carstens, and Kiernan Mack helped bring the team to the surface in it's usual title form.

Redbirds Never Give Opponents A Chance

After last year's conference title was snatched away from the Cardinals' grasp, everybody thought it would take Arlington at least a year to recover. But they came back being even better than before. Some of the Card Cagers' stand-outs, known as the super starting seven, are: Gregg Kloiber, Dennis Gaare, Terry Donahue, Jerry DeSimone, John Yeazel, Jim Grandt, and Mike Fogel. Within tradition they fought to keep the team's scores the highest.

(Right) Once again Arlington's offense proves to be aggressive, this time while Dennis Gaare and Terry Donahue recover the ball for the Cards.

(Top Right) Senior Jerry DeSimone seems to be concentrating on dunking two points and another victory to add to a marvelous basketball season.

Cardinal Wrestlers Take on Opponents

A. H. S. Matmen Pin Their Way to Victory

This year's wrestling team was better than ever. The team achieved overwhelming victories. They wrestled a very successful overall record of 13 wins and 1 loss. Captains Jim Stanczak, Herb Darmofal, and Gary Holub led the team to defeat their opponents with wide margins. They charged against Fenton 33-17, Hinsdale Central 39-9, West Leyden 32-14, and Palatine 43-6.

The varsity matmen were again coached by Mr. Cutlip. All doing outstanding were seniors Steve Scott, Jim Stanczak, Gary Holub, and Herb Darmofal; juniors John Preissing, Dan Kennedy, and Matt Shaughnessy; and sophomore Dan Weber, who'll be returning as a veteran, for the next two following seasons.

Arlington Gymnasts Perform Flawlessly

Hersey, Elk Grove, and Prospect were the only 3 teams to reign over Card Gymnasts, making their 5 win and 3 loss record third in M.S.L. standings. Two weeks later at the conference meet, Card Gymnasts easily edged out two of these three, giving them a second place in the best gymnastics conference in the nation.

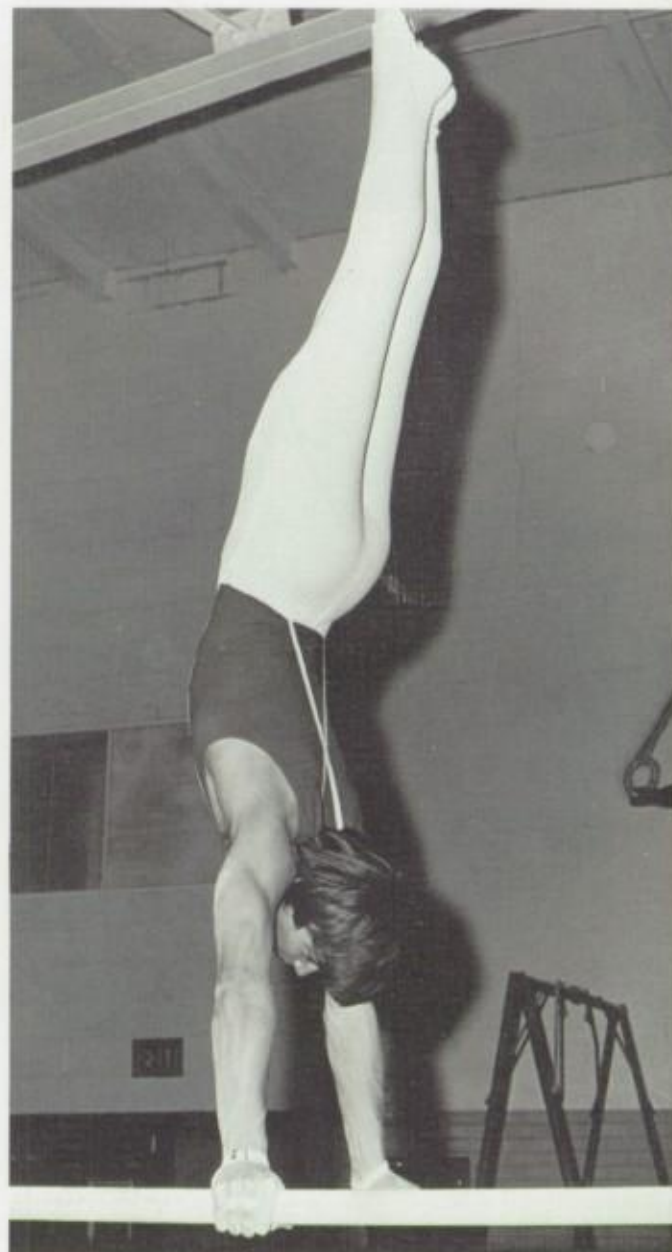

Arlington had no trouble qualifying 18 out of 21 gymnasts for sectionals when they swept District finals for the first place position. After having gone to sectionals, the gymnasts traveled to Prospect to eliminate and qualify members to the state meet and to place high.

Golfers Are Really in The Swing of Things

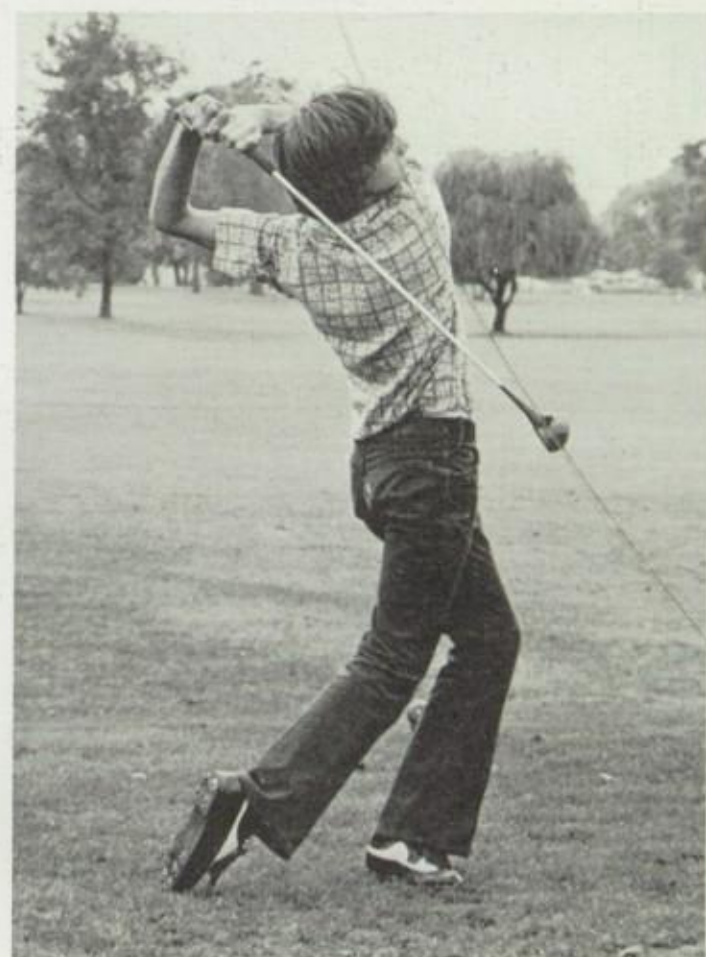

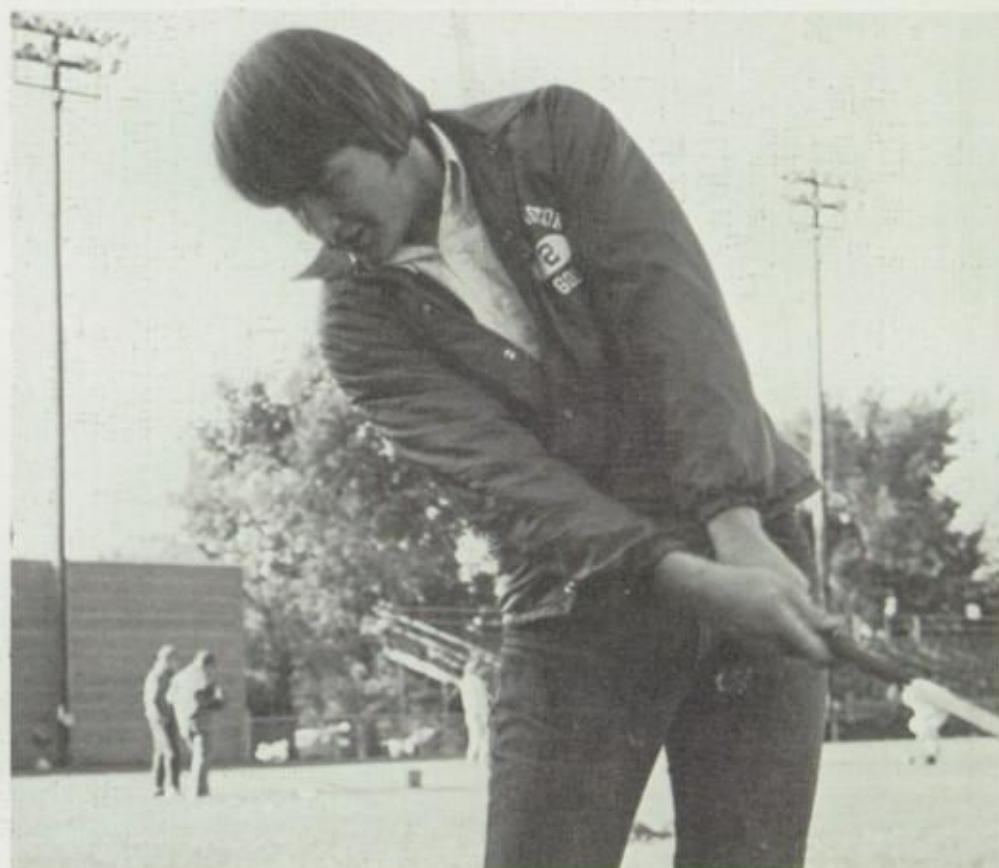

This year the Arlington Varsity golf team had a very productive season. Coached by Mr. Fliehler the team ended up with a winning record. One of their more exciting meets was beating Prospect by only one point. They finished the season by placing 2nd in the conference and by tying for 4th place in the districts. Following in Palmer's footsteps is Ed Colloton, senior, who qualified in sectionals.

(Top Right) "To be or not to be," Tom McCoy can only wait impatiently for his moment of truth.

Tennis Team Easily Swings to Success!

Arlington has had some good tennis teams and last year's was one of the best. Coached by Mr. Tom Pitchford, Arlington's varsity tennis team captured their 79th consecutive dual meet, and their 9th conference championship. They also placed 4th in state finals which Arlington hosted. Contributing to this great year were Jon Paczowski who placed 5th in state, Craig Van Gorp and John Yeazel who won first doubles in district and Luke Weeg and Roger Lockwood who also took the district titles of second in doubles classification.

Through rain, sleet, snow and jungle heat the Arlington Cross Country and Track teams practice beating the clock, leaping higher and throwing farther. Senior Greg Hansen trotted past his teammates to lead the pack for the Cross Country team while Bob Walsworth dominated the Cardinal Track team by placing 5th in conference for the half mile run. Another bright spot for the track team was their 1st place 440 relay champions Craig Bernhardt, Mike Dolinajec, Phil Dinielli, and Steve Cripe.

Girl Athletes Prove Themselves in Sports

Girl's athletics have really come up a lot in the past three years, with many of the sports having state meets now. One of them in the 73-74 season being the track and field team.

The Badminton team, led by coach Mary Lou Hundt, kept up their tradition with another undefeated season. Some of the team's standouts were Jean Condon, Nancy Sepp, and Mary Baines. The track team also did well finishing with a close second. The team also sent six of their members to the state meet. The team was coached by Norma Cook, who taught for her last year at Arlington.

Softball made a big effort ending up their season in about third in our conference. Mary Welpton did a fine job of coaching and should be congratulated on her hard working team. The swimming team also had an undefeated season, winning a first in conference. Coached by Mrs. Murdoch, some of the team's great tankers were Julie Krewer and Mary Cormier.

(Right) This fencer is most likely very glad that she has her mask, or else she might lose an ear.

(Above) The bulls eyes are what they wanted, and Kathy Boyd and Jennifer Hammerli got it.

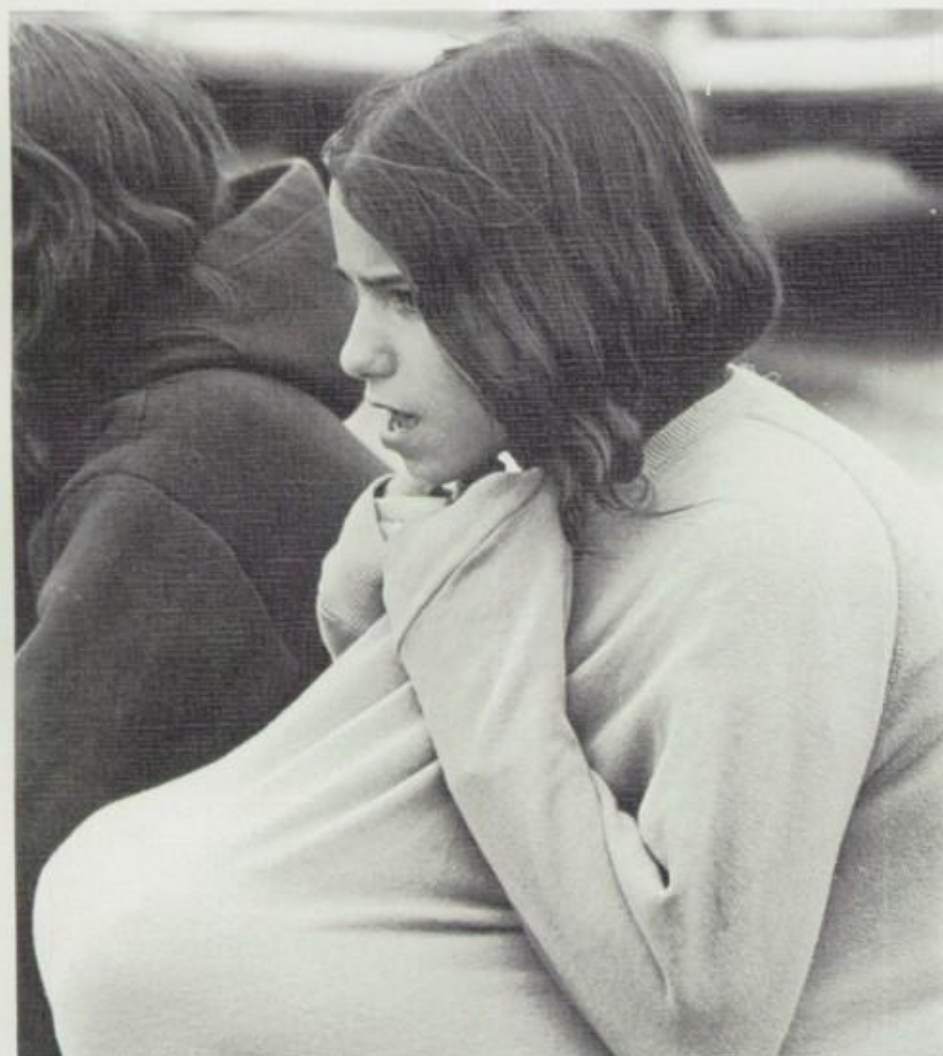

Our Girls Keep On With Winning Ways

Arlington's girls' sports had a successful fall season in 74. Fencing went undefeated, the third straight season. Under the coaching of Miss Welpton, the team placed first in state and conference.

Gymnastics had an overall 7-1 record and 6-1 in conference. The team placed second in conference, with Mrs. Murdoch and assistant coach Miss Jayne. The team showed much improvement over last year.

Arlington's archers, coached by Miss Swanson, were undefeated in conference for the third straight year. With an overall 9-0 record, the team was conference champ.

Arlington hosted the Illinois state tennis tournament this fall. While Arlington placed eleventh in state, they won first in district for the third straight year and first in conference for the fourth straight year. Coached by Mrs. Hundt, the team had another good season.

They Shoot to Score Scattering Every Pin

You've come a long way baby . . . as girls of the volleyball, basketball, and bowling teams have proven this year.

The 74-75 volleyball season brought with it the very first state, district, and sectional championships ever. By capturing both the district title and trophy, the Cardinals advanced into sectional play.

Girls of the basketball team had a new outlook this year. After having a totally disastrous season last year, the team changed their attitude and got the 74-75 season off to a winning start.

The bowling Cardinals demonstrated that it takes many strikes and spares to keep out of the back alley. Once more the Cards made it into district play before they were beaten. . . and look where the girls have gone to today.

Being

School Board Grasps Duties With Energy

Ever resourceful, the Administration rallied to last year's unique challenges (streaking, daily fire alarm drills, and the generous amount of snow which closed the school for several days) with typical capability. Their experience, gained through many years of various catastrophes, helped them guide Arlington through 1975's traumas. A school's administration goes largely unapplauded but deserves much credit. After all, it sets the policies and makes the school run smoothly. Smoothing Arlington's waves are: Dr. Gilbert, head of the district; Mr. Waara, the principal; Mr. Powell and Mr. Rowe, the assistant principals. Working with students on a more personal level, are Mr. Ahnquist who makes sure that student activities work well, and Mr. Vena, who makes sure that the students themselves work well, thus insuring educational progress.

(Top Right) Dr. Gilbert, Superintendent of High School District 214. (Above) Mr. Richard A. Bachhuber, Mr. John Costello, Mr. Jack Matthews. (Second Row) Mr. Warren Schabinger, Mr. Gene Artemenko, Mr. Donald Hoeck, Mr. Arthur Aronson. (Bottom Right) Dr. McClennan, Assistant Superintendent of High School District 214.

Establishment Still Hanging in There!

The year started out with a few familiar faces missing but enough new ones to fill in the gaps. The new teachers easily got in the swing of things and the returning ones fell back into the daily routine.

Besides putting in an eight hour day of teaching and coping with the unique problems of teen-agers, Arlington's faculty also spend their time as sponsors of clubs and coaches of teams. In this way students at Arlington have a chance to participate in extra-curricular activities.

Another part of Arlington's faculty is our outstanding counseling department. One can be sure there will be an understanding counselor there to help him with any problems he may have.

Teachers at Arlington not only teach but they also attend school. During the summer months they take courses that enable them to keep up with new ideas and teaching methods. Arlington's teachers are always learning so that they may give their best to their students.

After a history test like that one, who wouldn't?

is Don Hess sneaking through a hallway.

Hemphill show-off their glamorous 50's outfits.

words, give enthusiastic support to their teams.

Spirited Sophomores Are A Real Scream!

The 1975 "Heights" is the result of the combined energies and talents of many people. For their patient effort and understanding we wish to thank:

Mr. Robert Moorhead, our sales representative, from Walsworth Publishing Co. and Campus Photo studio. Mr. Friel for his graduation photos.

Darlene Bless our student photographer.

Mr. Wicklund and the whole English department for their assistance in our various emergencies.

Paddock Publications for photos on pages 39 and 47.

All the students, faculty, coaches, and administration for their help.

The "Cardinal" for swimming photos.

Our parents and friends for listening to our problems.

Our loyal staff, who put up with us and put out for us.

And especially Mr. Robert Boesel, our advisor, for his constant aid and sense of humor.

We hope they realize how much this yearbook means to us.
